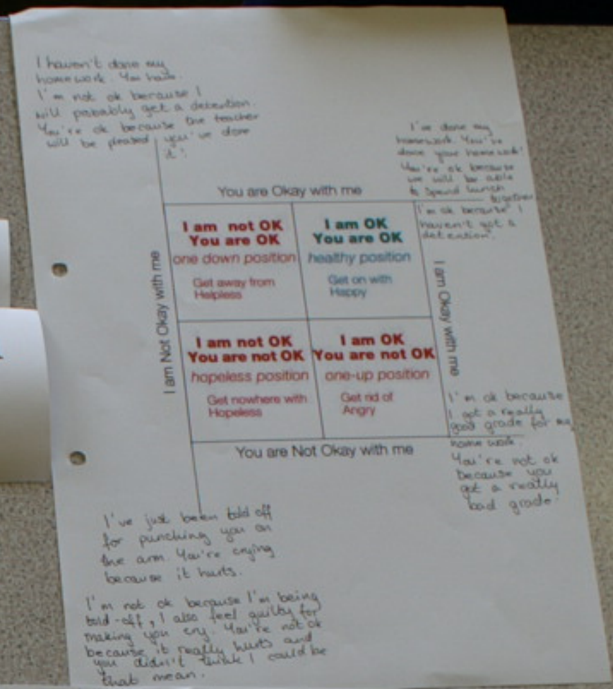
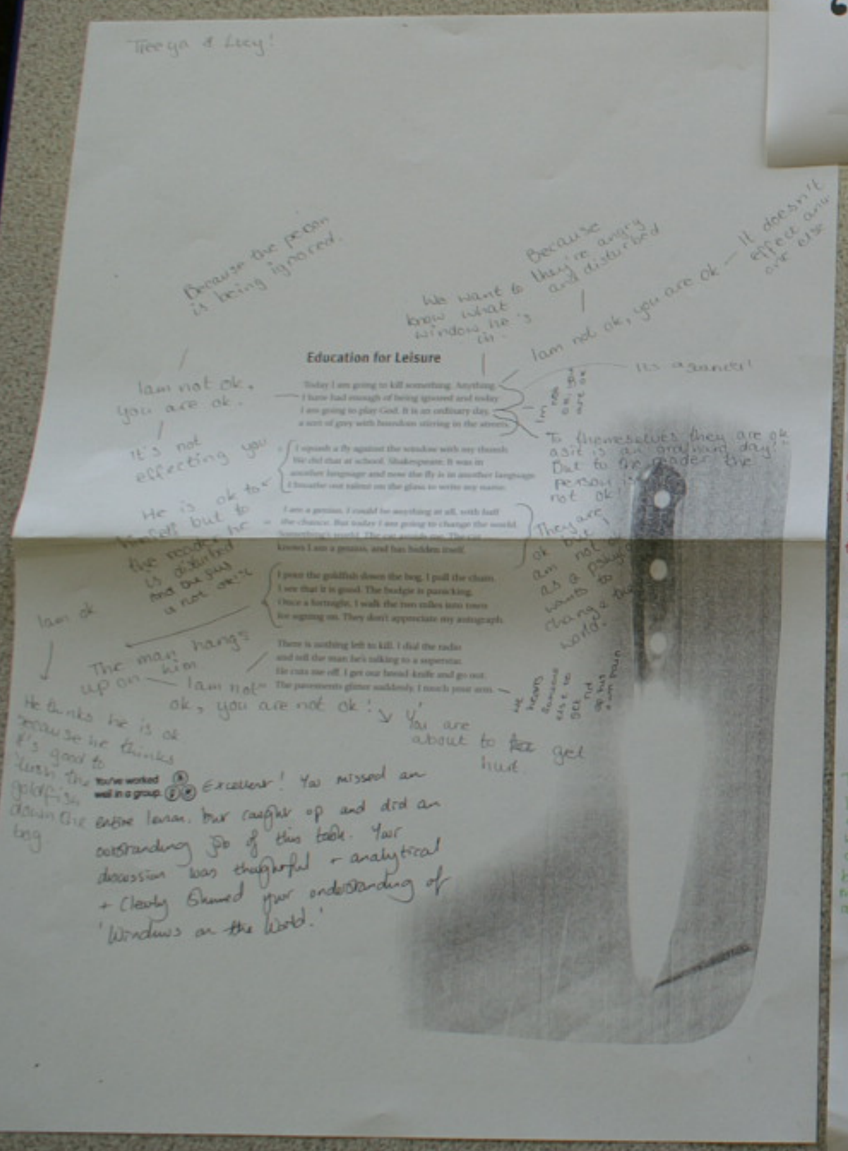
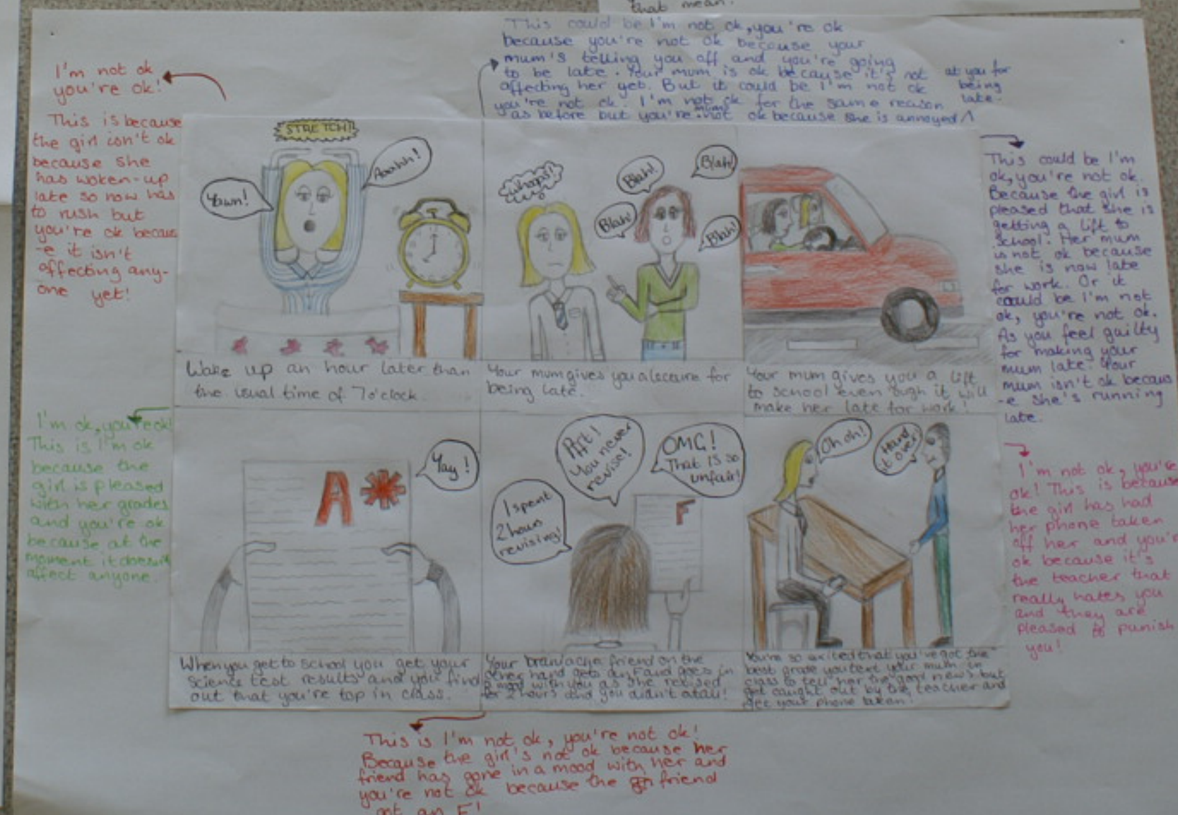
"Windows on the World"

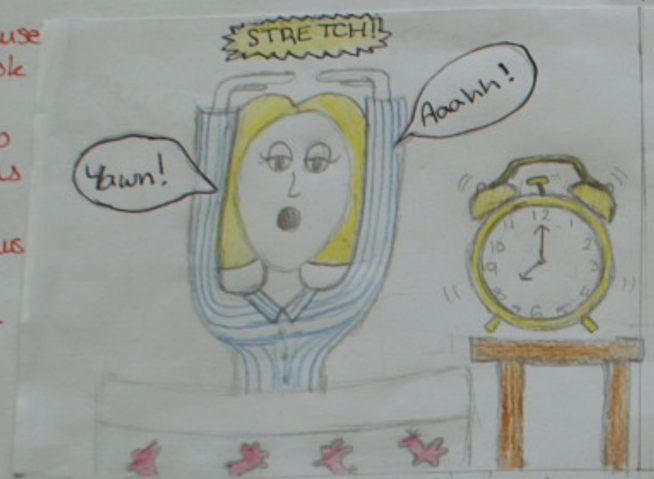






I'm not ok, you're ok!

This is because the girl isn't ok because she has woken-up late so now has to rush but you're ok because it isn't affecting anyone yet!



Wake up an hour later than the usual time of 7o'clock.

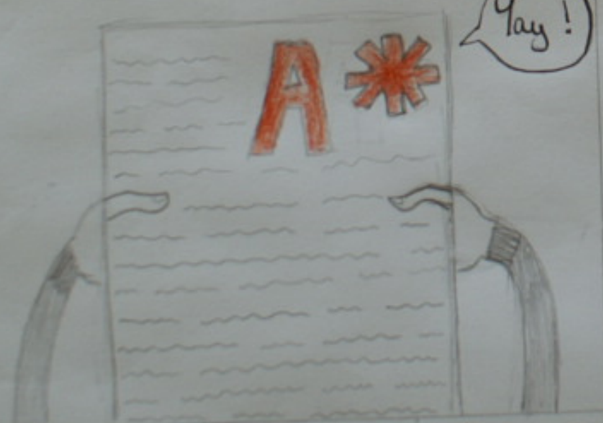
This could be I'm not ok, you're ok because you're not ok because your mum's telling you off and you're going to be late. Your mum is ok because it's not affecting her yet. But it could be I'm not ok you're not ok. I'm not ok for the same reason as before but you're mum not ok because she is annoyed!

Your mum gives you a lecture for being late.

Your mum gives you a lift to school even though it will make her late for work!

This could be I'm ok, you're not ok. Because the girl is pleased that she is getting a lift to school. Her mum is not ok because she is now late for work. Or it could be I'm not ok, you're not ok. As you feel guilty for making your mum late. Your mum isn't ok because she's running late.

I'm ok, you're ok! This is I'm ok because the girl is pleased with her grades and you're ok because at the moment it doesn't affect anyone.



When you get to school you get your science test results and you find out that you're top in class.

Your brainiache friend on the other hand gets an F and goes in a mood with you as she revised for 2 hours and you didn't at all!

You're so exited that you've got the best grade you text your mum in class to tell her the good news but get caught out by the teacher and get your phone taken!

I'm not ok, you're ok! This is because the girl has had her phone taken off her and you're ok because it's the teacher that really hates you and they are pleased to punish you!

This is I'm not ok, you're not ok! Because the girl's not ok because her friend has gone in a mood with her and you're not ok because the friend got an F!

Strokes

Obj: To understand what we mean when we talk about strokes.

A stroke is a unit of recognition:

verbal or non-verbal positive or negative conditional or unconditional.

Positive Conditional	Positive Unconditional
"Well done, that's an excellent piece of work!"	"I think you are FANTASTIC!"
Strokes for DOING	Strokes for BEING
"You didn't do your Homework!"	"You are absolutely useless."
Negative Conditional	Negative Unconditional

Matilda

Her parents give her unconditional Negative strokes.
Miss Honey gives her alot of positive conditional and unconditional strokes.

Me and My Strokes

Someone important to me as a child is my mum.
She stroked me for being good at writing stories.
I still do this now and she still strokes me.

My Learning Storyboard

Lucy

St Gilbert was my primary school. QE is my secondary school.	I find learning in this school quite easy in some subjects such as Bec and English. This is because I enjoy them. I find maths on the other hand quite hard as I don't understand it very well and find it quite boring. But practical lessons such as Bec and Science are more interesting as there's more to do.	I bring many qualities as a learner. I work really hard even though I don't have alot of input in class discussions. I have a good sense of humor and enjoy learning as a whole.
Landscape Where have you been learning/doing your learning?	Dwelling What's it like learning in this school?	Character What qualities do you bring as a learner?
I think learning is about enjoying what your doing and prepparing yourself for your future career. I think it's a good thing as you can become what you aspire to be.	My school teachers help me learn. (Some more than others!) I find the subjects I like the are taught by the teachers I like. My parents and friends also help me learn. Encouraging me in everything I do and giving me constant feedback.	I find other people that distract me in class an obstacle. They talk to me and I end up not getting all of my work done. If I don't understand the work I get frustrated and end up not doing it until I understand.
Challenge/Mission What do you think learning's about?	Helper Who helps you in your learning?	Obstacles What obstacles have you faced in your learning?
If people distract me then I've learnt to move away from those people and get on with my work on my own. I have learnt that if I don't understand the work I have to put my hand up and wait (usually a long while!) until the teacher comes over to me and helps me.	I have learnt that I learn and do my work better on my own; that way I can do what I want and how I like it. It is also to my standard. I don't really like working in groups as I don't always get my opinion heard and the work isn't as good as it would be if I did it on my own.	My next step is to work even harder and progress in my learning. I need to improve at maths, I will do this by asking for more help and not talking so much. I will enjoy life and work hard at everything I do.
Solutions What have you already figured out about how to learn/overcome these obstacles?/ What could be a solution?	Moral/Learning What have you learned about learning?	Outcomes/Next Steps What would be your next steps?

Friday 6th May 11 Reflective Diary

- I am a hard working fun loving person. I am kind and caring to most people. I think my drive is to be perfect as I always do my best on all of my work and if I mess up or make a mistake then I will have to start again, as everything has to be perfect.
- The sort of life I expect to lead in involves two children (a girl and a boy) and a loving (well paid) husband. I expect to get a good well paying job and travel alot before I start my family. But first I will go to College then University.
- The sort of job I would like to do is either be an equine nurse (looking after horses) and then progress to be an equine vet. But on the other hand I really like English and Fashion. So I might like to be a fashion journalist and work for 'Grazia' or 'Vogue' magazine.
- My parents want me to be successful and enjoy life. They will be happy as long as I am.
- I don't really know how other people view me, but I'm not really that bothered.
- Life is exciting and un-predictable.

your ok, because I am happy and I don't shout or annoy you.

I'm OK, your OK!

I'm ok because its a new day & a fresh new start!

I wake up ready and eager for a new fresh day, a fresh new start.

As I was going to go downstairs to get my breakfast my sister was sick but my mum was asleep.

No no no no no!

Oh No!

A whole lot of baby wipes + tip toeing!

So I had to clean it all up on my own trying not to wake up my mum.

Once it was cleaned up me and Poppy (3 y/o) went downstairs to get some breakfast.

I then tripped up the stairs and whacked my head on the way to get dressed.

Ouch!

I then hopped carefully down the stairs to go to school.

The sort of person i am is 'try ro be perfect' I always want things to be perfect. Im neather happy with the way i am. Im always changing, to find the perfect look for me for eaza-mple in a mounth i changed my hair 3 times. It was light brown then light brown with highlights then ddrk brown.

The sort of life i want is a Celebrity life. Nice and big with lots of Paparazzi. I want to be an actress but on the side a dance teacher and model. Even though it probably wont happen. But if i do became famouse, i will still shop at Primark! Its the best. Save my money for a nice big house, nice looks and 3 kids. Ive booked my twins theres gonna be twins and a girl on the side. All girls but may be a boy. I haven't decided on that yet! Haha.

My mum wants me to do what i want to be. She's helped me loads by sending me to Jenis Hip hop Model Compa-nies and Pantio! She has really helped me.

Life is a mystery. You dont know

I'm Ok, Your not ok else is asleep
You have woken so everyone is up on time so not ok because you don't have older sister is to rush, everyone still asleep for school

I'm not ok
your not ok
you feel bad because you were noisey and baby can't be happy

because she hasn't had enough sleep

Wake up at the usaual time and ready for the day ahead. Older sister is still asleep late for school.

Run down the stairs but dont relise how loud you are and wake up the whole house.

Mum tells you off for being noisey and waking up the baby

I'm not ok
your not ok.
mum tells you off so you feel useless and upset, mum is upset because Baby is awake.

I'm not ok
you are ok
you have to rush around because mum told you off but she gets to go back to sleep.

You are late for school so you have to rush mum goes back to sleep

You meet your friend Early so you don't have to rush to school.

You are late and your friend leaves her GCSE course work at home.

I'm not ok
your not ok
you are both late and you can't change time
and your friend left something important at home and you can't help, both feel useless
